PROFILE

Albert Deak is a multifaceted artist, combining traditional and modern ceramic techniques and the intricate technology of porcelain products and their functional aesthetics, with the unlimited potential of digital art, canvas painting or graphic art works in ink on paper.

His journey began in 1989, graduating from a renowned University of Art and Design in Eastern Europe, obtaining a Bachelor of Arts degree and specializing in Ceramic Design and design of decorative and household products from industrial and artistic ceramics.

Years of experience honed his skills in product design, crafting tableware and figurines for mass production. Yet, his creative spirit yearned for more. He ventured into independent artistic expression through graphics and digital painting, forging his own unique style.

Beyond the digital, Albert established his own micro-production workshop, breathing life into small series and unique ceramic pieces. His artistic journey has been enriched by participating in international exhibitions, showcasing his talent on a global platform.

Now, his focus has shifted towards authentic digital art. He has embarked on a captivating historical project, where traditional figurine modeling techniques will intertwine with his digital prowess.
